La Boutique Fantasque (1999)

Ballet by Léonide Massine, Music by Gioachino Rossini

choreography by Miah Nwosu, after Lili Griffiths,

Cossacks choreography by Gary Sevani

Character Actors rehearsed by Holly Clark & Becca Newton

A comedic one act ballet that centers on the love story between two can-can dancer dolls in a fantastic toyshop! Danced by our Lower and Upper Division students it is a spectacle of technique and acting not to be missed!

A Training Facility that Defines Excellence...

My daughters love the musical theatre program! It's a very supportive, fun environment. It's also their favorite ASA. I have also started one daughter in Scripps teen dance program and I can't believe how quickly she has developed dance skills! Wonderful instruction!

Brandi B.

We have loved sending our daughter here, but since we don't live in the area, we looked at another dance studio down the street from us. It did not compare to Scripps. There is such a warm family environment feeling when you walk into the studio, and all the teachers are amazing! Can't wait for her to be in the Nutcracker this year!

Not Just an After School Activity, but a Place to Build Character...

If you are looking for a pre-professional ballet program that values education and self-discipline, then SPAA is the place for your child.

Three years ago, my then 12 year old daughter was at a crossroads in her dance training. She was at a competition studio, studying all forms of dance, but really wanted a solid dance education that could take her farther than dance competitions. Luckily I found SPAA, and Ms. Angela and Ms. Miah encouraged my daughter to try their program. My daughter has since been to Summer intensives at Pacific Northwest Ballet, Houston Ballet and has been accepted to others including San Francisco Ballet, Miami City Ballet, Boston Ballet and Juilliard. She has taken classes from the best and feels that the classes at SPAA have not only prepared her well for other programs but are on par with the level of instruction.

They charge a fraction of what I was paying for competition dance. My daughter is happy and I never question the education she is receiving at SPAA. I highly recommend this school and only wish I had found it earlier.
